How We Do It

General Networks helps ensure the rapid and successful deployment of your solutions and realization of your business objectives. We have used this proven process on hundreds of client cases and would love the opportunity to help you grow and optimize your business. Our process begins with an assessment to define the project agenda, including business objectives, requirements, the project calendar, resources, roles, and responsibilities. Next, we take our analysis and translate it into an implementation model and then configure and build the solution with your team's participation and feedback along the way. Finally, we prepare the solution for deployment and provide comprehensive user adoption training and support.
